To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Corali Gat.

Corali interned with us at Vera Wang (Ready-to-Wear Collection) as a Design intern from July 24, 2017 until October 2, 2017. Her responsibilities included: pattern and production of hat showpieces, pattern making, sewing work on samples, assisting on research, presentation and organization, local sourcing, and general help in our design studio.

Corali is a smart, highly efficient worker who is not afraid to take initiative and drive projects through to completion. Everything we asked of her was done to perfection. I'm sure she will make a wonderful addition to any design team, and I look forward to seeing what lies ahead for her in her career.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend one of my previous interns, Corali Gat. Corali has interned under my supervision at Vera Wang for one semester. During this time, I have become familiar with her skill level and talent. She has shown leadership skills with her take-charge attitude by taking on tasks with confidence and guiding her peers when appropriate.

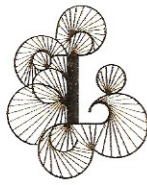

During Corali's time at Vera Wang she has assisted the design team and sample room with the RTW Spring 2018 Collection. For the collection she researched, developed, and sewed prototypes for the hats used in the collection. She has also assisted with the updates of the seasonal line sheets, updating and creating our design style sheets, design research, assisting with pattern alterations, small sewing projects, and processing our incoming fabrics for the season.

Corali was a huge help in preparing all of our garments for the ad campaign shoot and willing to put in extra hours when needed. Corali has been a great support during her internship. She has shown that she is reliable, professional, and thinking critically about the tasks assigned to her. I am confident that she will do well in her next role and add value wherever she chooses to go.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern, LEE PETRA GREBENAU

Dear Sir/Madame

RE: Recommendation Letter

Ms. Coral Gat was employed at the "Lee Grebenau" Studio for Bride Gowns and Evening Dress, during the months July-September 2016, as part time intern (two days a week).

Her work included embroidery, setting and ornamentation of the gowns and other related tasks.

Coral was responsible for the handmade finishing of the bride gowns and veils and the night dresses.

While doing her work, and through the whole internship, Coral demonstrated punctuality, responsibility and excellent taste, and contributed extensively to the productivity of the studio.

Being a second year's student of the Fashion Design Department at "Shenkar College", she demonstrated remarkable knowledge in the design of the various details of the studio collection, and carried her duties with outstanding proficiency and talent.

Coral has high work ethics and performed any task she got to our full satisfaction.

We thank Coral for being part of the "Lee Grebenau" team, her contribution to the studio, while always striving for excellence and highest product quality.

We wish Coral a lot of success in her future endeavors!

Sincerely,

Lee Grebenau

To whom it may concern,

Dear Sir/Madam

Re: recommendation letter for Corali Gat

Corali Gat was my student in her freshman year at Shenkar College – Fashion Design Department, in two project courses.

In these courses the students were required to design two collections which combined several clothing items and to sew two clothing sets.

During the course, Corali's work was elected to be exhibited at Rishon Le'Zion Museum in a collaboration exhibition between Shenkar and the Museum.

Corali is a very creative, responsible and devoted student, and possesses a unique mixture of inventive and technical capabilities.

I highly recommend Corali and am sure she will be a great asset to any employer.

Sincerely yours,

Barak Idit

To whom it may concern

Dear Sir or Madam

Re: Reference for Ms. Gat Corali

Ms. Gat Corali was my student in the last 3 semesters in the "Pattern Making Course" I conducted. Now she attends "Men's Wear Course" under my technical guidance.

I have found Gat to be a very talented, responsible and full of care about any detail in her work.

I am sure that for any future employer Gat will be a devoted, reliable and most of all talented employee.

Yours sincerely,
